Discusses Army Supply Problem

Some of the problems of the army supply in war times were discussed by Lt. Col. Louis P. Berwick (retired) of Methuen at the meeting of the Andover Service club at the Andover Inn Thursday night.

As an example of one of the headaches encountered through the improper marking of materials he told of an incident in the landing at Okinawa. Cylinder head gaskets were needed. After searching through the crates on the beachhead for two hours one was found with the desired markings. Opened up it was found to contain brassieres for WACs. Investigation revealed that when embarking from San Francisco a WAC detachment did not have enough room for all of its supplies. An army captain was asked by the WAC captain to help them out and to be a "good fellow" he had the crate marked "gaskets" and shipped with his supplies.

The speaker, who is also civil defense director in the neighboring town said that all families should learn and practice what to do in case of an air raid. He said that if we are attacked there will

Jethroe To Speak On Sport Program

Sam Jethroe, fleet outfielder of the Boston Braves, will be the guest speaker at the annual sports night program to be held by the Andover Catholic club Thursday evening, May 10.

The program will begin at 6.30 p. m. with a dinner in the high school cafeteria served by the wives and mothers of club members, after which the gathering will adjourn to the Memorial auditorium where the evening's program will be held. Last year Johnny Pesky of the Red Sox was the speaker at the first sports night program held by the club.

Members are invited to bring their sons, nephews or a boy from the neighborhood. Besides Jethroe there will be other sports entertainment including movies.

Veteran Appointed Civil Defense Clerk

Frederick Davideit, an army veteran of the present conflict who lost a foot in Korea, has started as a part time clerk in the civil defense office.

A graduate of Punchard High school he served in the armed services for some time and had considerable experience before his injury.

For the present he will be in the office mornings and will assist Albert Cole Jr., civil defense director, in the growing amount of work involved in organizing the local program.

The board of selectmen is in the process of drawing up a list of prospective women jurors to comply with recent legislation admitting women to jury duty.

In preparation for the compiling of this list the board anticipates mailing a questionnaire in the near future to prospects in order to determine the eligibility of each. The form of questionnaire as recommended by the secretary of state's office is to be returned to the town clerk, George H. Winslow, when completed.

Among the questions to be answered are: are you married, how many children under 16 years of age are in your care, occupation, where employed, have you ever been in court for a violation of the law, are you a member of any military organization or engaged in employment or occupation which would exempt you from jury duty.

The selectmen revise the jury list annually each June. With the information it obtains from prospective women jurors it is expected that many of them will be included in the 1951 list.

South Church Plans Bazaar

All members of South church parish are busily engaged in work preparatory to the "Main Street Andover" affair, headed by David Fox, to be held on May 25 and 26. A lobster and chicken supper will be served in the vestry on Friday evening May 25 to be followed by an entertainment in charge of Mrs. William Edwards.

On Saturday, the 26th, the grounds at the church on Central street will be humming with activity from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. People of all ages are being considered. There will be a children's playground, a garden shop, snack bar, food shop, gift shop, post office, book shop, antiques, and then for lasting memories of the event, a cook book in charge of Mrs. William V. Emmons with illustrations by Mrs. Robert Hatton. An auction will be held just to add more zest to a day of fun.

Andover Skippers Await MIT Races

With the new Midget trophy to be raced for at M. I. T. in their Tech dinghies in mind, the Schools club raced at Wakefield Saturday with a new determination to win.

Due to high winds the young racers were accompanied by adults and assisted by them during the strongest puffs.

The scoring totals of three races showed the schools finished as Paced by Capt. Louis Fiedler, Joe Kelsey and Jack Abercrombie, Punchard easily won the annual north shore invitation track meet at Gloucester Saturday. As a result of their victory, the team brought home a beautiful trophy to add to the ever growing trophy case at the high school.

Punchard scored in every event but the shotput as it compiled 39 points, more than the next two schools combined, Haverhill was

Seek Parsonage For Free Church

The parsonage committee of the Free church, will sponsor a special meeting, at 7.45 p. m. Wednesday, May 9, in the upper parish hall, in the interest of procuring a parsonage for the church.

Abbot Birthday Bazaar To Have Many Features

Urge Prompt Aid For Nurse Assn.

Many new members have joined the Visiting Nurse Assn., Inc., in the present drive, but as less than 50 percent of the quota has been received Edward A. Romeo, chairman of the 1951 campaign urges all to send their donations now.

Letters have been sent to old and prospective members and while first returns indicated a fine response to the appeal the latest reports show a falling off. It is urgent that former members mail in their 1951 contributions and also get as many new members as possible so that the work of the visiting nurse can be maintained.

The requests for service are steadily increasing. Officers and directors of the association appeal to the people of Andover for their usual generous support.

The annual meeting of the association will be held in the court room at the town house at 8 p. m. Tuesday, May 8. Annual reports will be made and officers and directors for 1951 elected.

Plan Another Class In Home Nursing

Another class in home nursing will be offered to the community this month, according to Miss Helen Woodbury, Red Cross nursing committee chairman.

The course is scheduled to begin on May 14, if the required number of registrations has been received by that date. Classes will be held on Monday and Thursday evenings until seven sessions have been completed.

Persons wishing to join the class are asked to phone or call at Red Cross headquarters as soon as possible.

Elaborate preparations are being made to make the Abbot Birthday bazaar next Saturday afternoon one of the most outstanding in the long history of such events.

The theme of the bazaar will recognize the worldwide commemoration of the 2000th year of the city of Paris and this idea will be further carried out when Miss Marguerite C. Hearsey, principal, will introduce Mons. Albert Chambon, French consul general of Boston, who will officially open the bazaar.

Arranged about the Abbot circle in the usual manner will be booths offering articles for sale.

Visitors to the bazaar are reassured that the flower booth and the booth where homemade foods

Award $800,000 School Bonds

The Town of Andover awarded the $800,000 school bonds at 100.1425 for 1 1/4% last week to Phelps, Fenn & Co., Goldman, Sachs & Co., and F. S. Smithers & Co., holding jointly. In all there were 11 bids representing 27 financial concerns.

The bonds will mature serially $55,000 a year for the next 10 years, and $50,000 a year for the five years thereafter. The winning bid carried a premium of $1140 over the face value of the bonds. Clyde Goldthwaite of Alderbrook rd., and of the Merchants National bank of Boston arranged the details and Town Treasurer Thaxter Eaton and Selectman Roy E. Hardy acted for the town.

are sold will be well stocked and will provide all the favorite demands both as to flowers and good things to eat. The white elephant promises to hold a number of real treasures as well as ample and varied supplies of desirable items. There will be the wishing well, and adding to the festive air of a French scene, the flower carts will move along the crowds, and the book stalls will engage the passer-by to stop and look for a much wanted volume at a very alluring price.

Games and entertainment will be main features of the bazaar this year. Indoor and outdoor plans will be laid so that there will be fun and competition regardless of weather conditions. In the vicinity of the games area will be the ever popular refreshment booth where cold drinks, ice cream and candy will be plentiful.

Another interesting part of the afternoon's programme will be a display of student project which year after year have drawn the attention of parents in particular. The exhibition will be placed in the John-Esther Gallery, and open all the afternoon.

No Abbot bazaar would be a complete success without the participation of Phillips academy. This year our auctioneer will be Stephen Whitney of the French department, and the committee on articles to be auctioned is promising an exciting half-hour or so as attractive and useful articles are put up for bidding. During the afternoon one innovation of this year's fair will be the institution of a silent auction. It works.

The bazaar will go on, rain or shine, and as is always the case the proceeds will go to philanthropic purposes, beginning in Andover and reaching out to include worldwide objectives such as the World Student Service fund which Abbot girls have supported with energetic efforts and sustained enthusiasm for a number of years.

All visitors are cordially welcome. The usual large number of local residents and visitors from neighboring towns is expected.

Miss Adele Bockstedt of the French department is general chairman of the bazaar and Miss Hearsey chairman ex-officio. Betsy Garvey, president of the senior middle class, is student chairman; Mrs. Constance P. Chipman assisted by Betsy Aldrich and committee will be in charge of the Abbot booth.

Other booths will be in charge of the following: Flower booth, Mlle. Germaine Arosa assisted by Jane Wilson and committee; home-made foods, Mrs. Arthur Quintal, Mrs. Frederick Ortstein assisted by Anne Sanborn, Marion Noss and committee; refreshments, Mrs. Roger Higgins assisted by Harriet Brown and committee; white elephant, Miss Harriet McKee assisted by Joan Baird and committee; wishing well, Miss Gerda Kaatz assisted by Lorna Ball and committee; balloons, Miss Shirley Ritchie assisted by Julia Merriweather and committee; cafe, Miss Hope Coolidge, Miss Elaine Dodge assisted by Maxine Seidel and committee; auctions, Miss Jane Sullivan assisted by Joan Wood, Stephen Whitney and committee; second with 20 points and Lawrence Central Catholic third with 17. Other scores were: Gloucester 15, Beverly 7 1/2, Peabody 5, Methuen 4, Danvers 2 1/2, and Salem 0.

Games, Miss Edity Grassi assisted by Susan Hunter and committee; entertainment, Miss Dorothy Judd assisted by Mary Dozier Hawes and committee; exhibits, Miss Alice Sweeney assisted by Clemency Chase.

There were no double winners but Fiedler and Kelsey came close. Fiedler won the 220 yard dash and was barely nosed out of first place in the 100 yard dash by Mercer of Peabody. Kelsey ran away with the 440 yard run and tied for second in the broad jump as well as being leadoff man in the winning relay team. Abercrombie took second in the high jump, tied for second in the 220, and ran a fine anchor leg in the relay.

Buster Svenson continued his unbeaten streak the mile but was forced to run the fastest time of his career, 5m. .05s. to win over Lemay of Central Catholic.

Don Valz finished second about five yards behind Gloucester's Roy Call in the half mile with Louis Hamilton another five yards back. Both boys ran the fastest races of their careers but even that could not beat Call's time of 2m. 11.2s.

The Punchard relay team of Joe Kelsey, Monte Peck, Rae Hathaway, and Jack Abercrombie ran away from Haverhill in the fairly good time of 1m. 24.4 seconds.

Monte Peck and Randall Hurley showed well in the 120 yard high hurdles despite a lack of practice. Hurley was fighting for third place in this event when he was tripped by a spectator and thus had to be satisfied with fourth. Rae Hathaway and Frank Wright also took fourth in the 100 yard dash and mile respectively.

Ask Improvement In Traffic Safety

Walter R. Davis and Herbert Ortstein appeared before the board of selectmen Monday night relative to traffic safety especially for school children in Shawsheen.

Shortly after a traffic fatality in the village early last year Shawsheen residents through a large committee made several suggestions for traffic safety which have been adopted by the state department of public works which controls the lights and signs on route 28. The present matter was referred to the state board for study. After a hearing on the petition of Garabed Dargoonian of 29B Essex st., to keep, store and sell gasoline in the amount of 10,000 gallons in an underground tank at 199 N. Main st., the question was held in abeyance for a week. The petition previously was denied by the board of appeals.

John M. Jr., and Dorothy Bird-sall, doing business as The Coffee Mill, were granted a common victualer's license to replace the one formerly held by Leon's Spa.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length white lace gown with matching hat and mitts. She carried a Bible marked with gardenias and streamers of lilies of the valley.

Miss Vivian Bell acted as maid of honor for her sister. Hermand Perry of the naval hospital served as best man and the ushers were Willis Butler and Arthur Hohemeyer.

LITTLEST LISTENERS

Both groups of Littlest Listeners, Robins and Bluebirds, will meet together at the library at 10 a. m. Wednesday, May 9, for their last meeting of the season which will take the form of a party, which is the custom for this group.

Re-open Haggetts For Boating, Fishing

Haggett's pond was reopened for fishing and boating Tuesday, May 1, after the board of public works voted at its Apr. 25th meeting to issue permits for both beginning the first of this month. The board some weeks ago voted to revoke all permits issued this year to give further study to the question.

In reopening the pond for both boating and fishing the board serves notice that it will not tolerate any violations and that it will reject applications that may be filed by past violators.

It also points out the seriousness of contamination if carelessness and neglect are displayed and warned that failure to comply with all rules and regulations will leave the board no other alternative other than to close the pond indefinitely.

Every woman and girl now buying or interested in silver flatware should know certain basic facts to protect their investment. These facts are often distorted by door-to-door peddlers of silver but here are things you should know:

What's In The Name?:

The name on nationally advertised sterling is a safeguard of your investment and of your good taste. Nationally advertised brands, which is all we sell at Grecoe's, represent hundreds of years of silver craftsmanship and long established firms with a tradition behind them. Names like TOWLE, GORHAM, LUNT, REED & BARTON and the many other fine brands we stock, safeguard your good taste because your guests recognize your flatware for what it is. . . FINE SILVER!

Never Choose From A Few Patterns:

Fine sterling pattern designs are not restricted to two or three types which the house-to-house peddler features. . . actually there are over a hundred, fine patterns. There is ONE pattern ideally suited to your individual taste but you should see them all before selecting. Yes, you should see the pattern AND COMPARE IT WITH THE OTHERS BEFORE DECIDING. At Grecoe's we stock 62 PATTERNS. . . and can obtain all others. When you make a pattern decision here you KNOW you've selected wisely.

Danger of Buying Peddled Brands:

Women of all ages usually buy sterling on a long range plan and justly so for sterling is a life-time investment. Buying piece-by-piece or by the place-setting plan, it usually takes a few years before a six or eight-place service is completed. When you buy ESTABLISHED brands from an ESTABLISHED jeweler, you know that two, five or even ten years from now you will be able to add to your service. . . the long history of your silver's maker assures that. Buying from someone selling silver as a sideline is very indefinite. . . there is no guarantee that you will be able to obtain the additions you want in years to come. If you move out of town, what then? In buying sterling or silverplate with a NAME, you know that today, tomorrow and for years to come you will be able to add to that service in ANY CITY IN THE COUNTRY!

Is Good Sterling More Expensive?:

NO! Established, fair-traded prices are LOWER than the prices of those patterns peddled house-to-house. Fair-traded prices mean that the price you pay for any silver at Grecoe's is the same as it is in any city in the United States. The weight of each piece is the heaviest made in every pattern. At Grecoe's too, budget terms are available to suit your convenience. Come in and receive a gift in the pattern of your choice.

Survey On Inflation

Some time ago the Psychological Corporation, under the direction of Dr. Henry C. Link, conducted a 5,000-interview survey in which this question was asked: "Because of inflation, the dollar will buy less today than two or three years ago. Which one of these three reasons is most to blame: labor unions pushing up wages; high company profits; high government spending and borrowing?"

Of the 5,000 people interviewed, 49 per cent said government spending and borrowing; 18 per cent said rising wages; 14 per cent said big profits, and 19 per cent were uncertain. In all income and educational groups, the answers were in about the same proportion.

The fact that nearly half of this typical group of citizens realize that government spending and fiscal policies are the major cause of inflation is a fine sign. In the past, a great many of us have fixed our attention on the symptoms of inflation while totally overlooking the causes of this economic disease. A good example of that failure to see the forest because of the trees is found in periodic demands that retail stores at once cut their prices or face consumer boycotts. Here is a case where one of the victims of inflation is made a goat. The retailer has no control over the prices he must pay for his goods, his profit margins are very small, and he is as helpless as the rest of us.

In any event, the only hope for checking inflation lies in a vigorous reform within the government, and an about-face in present spending and borrowing policies. An awakening public must demand that that be done, and without procrastination.

Technically, our nation is not a "democracy" but a "republic." The distinction lies in the fact that the people of the country do not act directly in the affairs of the nation, but through their duly elected representatives. Only in the town meetings, now almost entirely restricted to the smaller communities of New England, is pure democracy exercised, and then only in the affairs of those communities. — East Hampton (Conn.) We have grown into a self-centered nation of people, each separate section demanding the maximum of benefits from a munificent government, caring little whether others are treated likewise. As a result the national cost of living has grown to such proportions that our original dollar has been cut to less than half its former value. — Mayville, N. D., Tribune.

Vitamin D

This vitamin is especially important for the young because Vitamin D and minerals are necessary for the formation of straight, strong bones and sound teeth. Babies with bowlegs may have had too little vitamin D. Everyone should get some of this vitamin regularly. It is particularly important for pregnant and nursing mothers.

Vitamin D is sometimes called the "sunshine vitamin" because the sun's rays striking the skin have power to change certain substances in the skin to vitamin D. To supplement sunshine and the few foods which contain significant amounts of vitamin D, doctors usually recommend that babies and young children take a special vitamin D preparation or one of the fish liver oils regularly.

INTERNATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — By John Fisher

Finds Communistic Ideal Weaking In Red China

Now that America is experiencing the full impact of General MacArthur, a large number of earnest public opinion-molders are cautioning against yielding to emotions.

The Administration, for one, is employing its enormous propaganda machine to refute the general's arguments. It implies that anyone who agrees even in part with the old soldier has lost his reason and is instigating World War III.

Nevertheless, a belief is growing among many in Washington and elsewhere that perhaps the anti-MacArthur element is near-sighted in failing to see that national cowardice, in itself, can be an ignominious and perilous form of hysteria.

One explanation of the phenomenal popular response to MacArthur is that a bewildered, frustrated, but essentially practical people recognize him as the symbol of action against compromise, stalemate, appeasement and defeatism.

The American instinct—at Valley Forge, the winning of the West, the solving of atom-splitting—is to permit no obstacle to block the road to success—not even the towering figure of Russia.

True, the emotions actuated by MacArthur could push the United States into a larger engagement than is being fought today. But the aroused spirit may place this country in the position of bold, strong, inspired moral leadership, so lacking in this fear-paralyzed world and yet so sorely needed in the life and death struggle with advancing communism.

We Have Most Answers

The overshadowing question—in the opinion of those giving weight to MacArthur's views—is not simply one of negotiation or postponement of further war—important as both subjects certainly are. It is: How can we keep Russia from destroying America—as she is pledged by her leaders to do?

Part of the answers is forthcoming: American rearmament is snowballing. Congress backs with troops General Eisenhower's Western defense plan. Europe is showing a will to stay free. But an Allied weakness is that we have left the initiative to the Soviet Union and Red China.

UN policy assured Peiping that it could commit its major military strength in and around Korea, confident that its Manchurian sanctuary would not be breached, its transportation, ports and industries bombed, its imports of war materials stopped or its defense of Russia's rear broken. Red China knows that the American army, strapped in a straitjacket, can be slugged all over the ring and is barred by self-imposed rules from using its knockout punch.

Those opposing such futility maintain that an unbeaten China can so menace American security in the Pacific that we never can fully support an attacked Europe. They say that a victorious China also will be a manpower reservoir for Russia to use in Europe as a field army or an occupation force—like the Mongolian occupation troops now terrorizing the captive Baltic republics.

Advocates of change in the uneven balance of power also point out that currently Red China is much weaker than pictured. Its few transportation lines and meagre industrial centers are exposed. Its economy is nearly wrecked. Its people are ripe for relief from communist oppression.

Agrarian reform an Empty Dream

At first Mao Tze-tung's regime made a big to-do of agrarian reform. Actually, the break-up of large estates, a feature of European communist revolutions, has had only a slightly beneficial effect. In prewar Russia about 30,000 landlords owned over 6,000 acres on the average. In China 2,400,000 landlords had an average plot of only 45 acres.

Japanese property was redistributed in Manchuria, but the final unit was about five acres. In China proper the shares are between one and three acres per farm family—insufficient to raise living standards.

Agriculture's paramount needs are simple steel tools, machinery, irrigation, reclamation and modern methods of increasing production. Grain output is 90 per cent of the low prewar level. Crop failures from floods and droughts last year caused hunger to 40 million people in North and Central China. Funds for farm machinery and expansion of agriculture go to support the huge armies and the swollen bureaucracy.

Brow-beaten Peasants Disillusioned

Mao's failure to mitigate economic misery has left shaky foundations that may collapse under new military pressures. The disillusioned peasantry no longer rallies to communism. Peiping admits the backsliding, blaming it on "landlords, secret Kuomintang agents and mercenaries of American imperialism."

An official movie, staged as an anti-Chiang Kai-shek film, showed one flash of the supposedly discredited old Nationalist flag. The crowds applauded so heartily that the scene was ordered cut.

Purges launched in February are increasing in horror. Thousands of "counter-revolutionists" are being executed. Yet guerilla chiefs, slipping into Formosa, announce that the resistance movement is growing.

Red China is weak now. But if unmolested, she may kill off her rebels, crush her farmers and workers into slavery, educate oncoming generations as fanatical communists, raise the most powerful army ever mobilized in the Orient and—whenever Moscow gives the command—strike at America or Europe or both.

Will the Kremlin Cross the Rubicon?

Every clear-sighted American realizes that if we hit China in a new spot, Russia may intervene with Soviet-manned planes, submarines and even troops. The Kremlin may do these things anytime without provocation by us. But Russia also has several crucial

I'll match my Dodge with any car on the road for Value and Dependability

—says MICHAEL OPPENHEIM

"Sure, I've owned and driven other make cars," says Michael Oppenheim, Bellerose, N. Y. "But since 1941 my cars have all been Dodges. So when I say I'll match Dodge with any other car for value and dependability, I'm on safe ground. I know how dependable Dodge cars are, how little they cost to run. In fact, my new 1951 car is another dependable Dodge!"

You could pay up to $1,000 more and not get all the extra room, comfort and rugged dependability of Dodge

Compare what Dodge gives you . . . with what other cars offer. Check the Dodge record for ruggedness and dependability. Then you'll understand why Dodge owners say they'll match Dodge with any car on the road.

Take riding comfort for example. You could pay far more for a car and still not get the almost unbelievable smoothness of the new Oriflow ride. Even on roughest roads there's no wheel "hop" or bounce . . . wheels stay on ground providing a smooth, level ride for all passengers.

You get the relaxing comfort of extra head room, leg room and shoulder room. You never feel cramped or crowded. And Dodge gives you the priceless safety of "Watchtower" visibility . . . of Safety-Rim Wheels . . . of big Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes with much larger braking surface to stop you smoothly, safely, surely.

Dodge Gyro-Matic is the lowest priced automatic transmission on the market. It lets you drive all day long without shifting . . . yet it is simpler, safer—gives you full control of your car under all driving conditions.

And no car at any price can match the Dodge reputation for ruggedness and dependability. Come in—see and drive today's big Dodge.

be no preliminary warning. To avoid unnecessary casualties he advised all learning what the air raid signal is, how to act if at home or on the street and having plans made in advance so that all members of the family will know what to do.

He pointed out that civilians in this country have never experienced war conditions and that in order to avoid panic and additional loss of life or injuries in case of bombing, should know in advance what action to take for their own safety. As an illustration he mentioned the recent fire that destroyed the Bruce school in Lawrence and how the fire drills had prepared the children how to act, with the result that all got out safely where there might have been many casualties.

President Stanley F. Swanton presided at the dinner and business session. Thaxter Eaton offered the blessing and William A. Doherty won the free dinner. It was voted to donate $35 for the purpose of sending a local boy to Boy's State at Amherst this summer. This is an annual donation of the club. The boy is chosen by the Legion post.

Practical Advice For Your Building Problems

Who said You can't Afford a Fine Car?

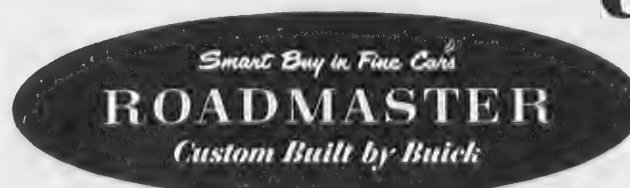

WHEN you look at all a ROADMASTER has to offer, it's only natural to conclude that it's priced with the rest of the fine-car field.

But don't let that fool you into deciding "it's too rich for me."

If you've looked into 1951 car prices generally, you'll discover this:

You can own a ROADMASTER for just a shade more than an ordinary car will cost—and for several hundred dollars less than the price tags usually found in "the fine-car field."

P. A. Sports . . .

An enthusiastic crowd, including trustees and class agents, saw the P. A. baseball team produce its finest game of the year Saturday before succumbing to a powerful B. C. Freshman team by a 2 to 1 count. A pitcher's battle all the way, B. C. finally nailed down the victory on a scratch hit through the middle at the top of the 10th. Andover's Bill Duffy showed real class on the mound, and the general performance portends better success during the balance of the schedule.

Steve Sorota's track men rolled on in high gear by snowing under the University of New Hampshire Freshmen, 101 to 25. A single narrow loss to the Harvard Freshmen mars an otherwise perfect season, and the academy trackmen will doubtless be favored in their remaining meets this year.

Meantime, an academy golf team squeaked by Lowell Tech by 5 to 4 count, and the tennis team lost in an informal opener to the Harvard Grads, 8 to 1.

The Phillips lacrosse team had their victory skein snapped at 12 straight with a 8 to 7 loss at Mount Hermon, Apr. 21, but came back with a close 8 to 6 victory over Manhasset at Andover, Friday, Apr. 27.

High-lighting the weekend was the annual meeting of the board of trustees, coupled with the return of some fifty class agents, ranging from the class of 1890 through 1951. These men and their wives followed out a full program of activities at various events on the campus before scattering to their homes in points as distant as West Virginia and Chicago.

CHELMSFORD 4, PUNCHARD 1
Chelmsford took over first place in the Merrimack Suburban league Monday by handing Punchard its first defeat of the season by a 4 to 1 score on the local playstead.

Bob Carruthers was in rare form for the winners, the big right hander striking out 16 while limiting the locals to three hits. He walked five. Don Millay pitched a good game but after the first inning his mates could do little for him in manufacturing runs.

Howe high plays here today.

INTERNATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Would realistic Stalin start World War III over an American move remote from the heartland of Russia? Would he open a second front in Europe while his back door in Asia was being splintered by American blows?

Would he withdraw aid from beleaguered Red China and use his entire resources to win against Europe, realizing that an abandoned and revengeful China in a wave of Titoism might drive the Russians from Manchuria and Siberian maritime provinces and that his old foe Japan might invade Soviet Asia?

Would he for the sake of an opportunistic alliance with Mao start a war that would bring the A-bomb down on his own head? Would he hurl Russia into a world war which he knows he can never win?

The free world is not the only world confounded by fateful questions. Consequences leading to the ultimate doom of Russia are in prospect if an utterly mad Russia makes the colossal blunder of turning the Yalu river into a Rubicon.
